

Hosted by the California
Partnership to End
Domestic Violence

NEW WEBINAR

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 26

2:00-3:30 PM | REGISTER

ASSISTING & UNDERSTANDING VICTIMS WITHIN THE NATIVE AMERICAN COMMUNITY

Presented by: Keely C. Linton, Strong Hearted
Native Women's Coalition, Inc.

ABOUT

---

This workshop includes a brief history of Indian policies with the federal and state governments focusing on the historical traumas inflicted on the tribal people.

The session will provide an understanding of how institutional violence affects tribal families today. Discussion will include current barriers, services, and needs for Native American Victims, including jurisdictional issues and cultural appropriate responses.

+REGISTER TODAY

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

---

- To recognize the origins of historical trauma and its results on Native Americans in the current day and age.
- To understand the similarities and differences in regional cultural groups.
- To understand the impact of physiological and psychological features resulting from the progression of trauma.
- To gain understanding of the narrative throughout this country's decades that is used to identify this population.
- To learn about general demographics and dynamics of Tribal communities throughout the Nation and California.
- To gain understanding of the U.S. Government's Indian Policies and how the legal system affects us today.