

DELTA FOCUS
Domestic Violence Prevention Enhancement and Leadership Through Alliances
Focusing on Outcomes for Communities United With States

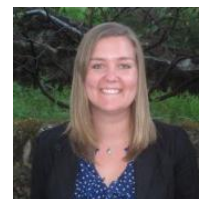

Leadership Team 2015

The DELTA FOCUS Leadership Team provides input and guidance to the California Partnership to End Domestic Violence to:

1. Inform the implementation and evaluation of DELTA FOCUS state-level prevention strategies;
2. Update existing state plans for intimate partner violence primary prevention;
3. Identify and address barriers and system support opportunities;
4. Ensure linkages between state and local level prevention strategies; and,
5. Reduce system duplications.

In addition, each Leadership Team member serves a specific role(s) as indicated:

1. Emily Austin, Director of Policy and Evaluation, Peace Over Violence: identify needs and opportunities for capacity-building among members of the California Partnership to End Domestic Violence; and, ensure that state-level prevention strategies closely align with and support local prevention efforts. Emily@peaceoverviolence.org
2. Nancy Bagnato, Domestic & Teen Dating Violence Project, California Department of Public Health: identify opportunities to collaborate with CDC Rape Prevention Education Program grantees at the local and state levels, and opportunities to inform policies and practices to prevent adolescent dating abuse within the public education system and public health system. Nancy.bagnato@cdph.ca.gov
3. Molly Baldrige, Community Engagement Manager, Youth Radio: ensure that the project infuses youth development and youth leadership practices into local and state strategies, including youth-led and youth-informed media strategies to inform policies and practices and influence social norms. molly@youthradio.org
4. Lisa Eisenberg, Senior Policy Analyst, California School-Based Health Alliance: identify opportunities to inform policies and practices to prevent adolescent dating abuse within the public education system and among school based health centers. leisenberg@schoolhealthcenters.org

5. Peter Wright, Policy and Programs Officer, California School Boards Association: identify and support opportunities to inform K-12 public education system policies and practices to prevent adolescent dating abuse. pwright@csba.org

6. Caroline Miller, Program Specialist, Dating Matters, Alameda County Department of Public Health: share lessons from the CDC-funded Dating Matters project and help to identify opportunities to include local health departments in efforts to inform public health system policies and practices to prevent adolescent dating abuse. caroline.miller@acgov.org

7. Alison Chopel, Executive Director, California Adolescent Health Collaborative: identify opportunities to inform adolescent public health system policies and practices to prevent adolescent dating abuse. Alison.Chopel@phi.org

8. David Lee, Director of Prevention Services, California Coalition Against Sexual Assault (CALCASA): identify opportunities for collaboration and joint projects between the DELTA FOCUS project and CDC Rape Prevention and Education-funded activities at the state and local levels. david@calcasa.org

9. Debbie Lee, Senior Vice President, Futures Without Violence, and Deputy Director, National Program Office, Start Strong: Building Healthy Teen Relationships and Lisa Sohn, Program Director, Start Strong: Building Healthy Teen Relationships, Futures Without Violence: identify opportunities to inform policies and practices to prevent adolescent dating abuse within the public education system and public health system (adolescent health providers) and share lessons from adolescent dating abuse prevention project such as Start Strong: Building Healthy Teen Relationships. dlee@futureswithoutviolence.org and lsohn@futureswithoutviolence.org.

10. Stephanie Papas, School Health Education Consultant, California Department of Education: identify opportunities to inform K-12 public education system policies and practices to prevent adolescent dating abuse. SPapas@cde.ca.gov

11. Alison Tudor, Executive Director, Alliance for Community Transformations: identify needs and opportunities for capacity-building among members of the California Partnership to End Domestic Violence; and, ensure that state-level prevention strategies closely align with and support local prevention efforts. alison@alliance4you.org

12. GSA Network: ensure that the project and strategies address the strengths and needs of LGBTQ youth; share lessons from the CDC-funded Safe & Healthy LGBT Youth Project; and, identify opportunities to leverage school-based efforts to promote safe schools free from violence, bullying and harassment.